I am one of the organizers of a 7-Zip Add-In for Notepad++, but I figured that other people could get some use out of it as well. In this case, it is simple to create file archives. The archive itself is created by default with a 7z extension, but if you change the extension to zip you can create zip archives for Windows or to unarchive files that are compressed into those archives. Included are all of the instructions on how to use 7-Zip Archive Extractor (zip-gui) with Notepad++, as well as some quick tips and tricks on how to navigate the program. These tips apply to 7-Zip Archive Extractor (zip-gui) as well. Note: 7-Zip is not the same as 7-Zip. Seven-Zip is a free, open-source file archiver, while 7-Zip is a commercial application and also a free utility. Getting started 1. Have Notepad++. 2. Click on the "Tools" menu and then click on "Add-Ins" and then "7-Zip". 3. When a 7-Zip Add-In for Notepad++ appears, click on the box beside "7-Zip". 4. On the next screen, click on "OK". 5. The Notepad++ main window will show a new 7-Zip Add-In. 6. On the next screen, click on the box beside "7z" or "zip". 7. The 7-Zip archiver and extractor will appear in Notepad++. Click on "OK" at the bottom right of the window. 8. On the next screen, select a location to save your archive to. 9. Select a compression method. The default is best compression. 10. Click "OK".
